COMMISSIONERS ASKED TO AMEND MEAT ORDINANCE

Committees From Farmers Union, Merchants, and Citizens Make Protest.

Committees from the Farmers' Union, the Merchants' Association and the citizens of the city went before the City Commissioners this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of petitioning them to modify the present meat inspection ordinance. The position of the farmers and citizens was set forth before the commissioners and the matter discussed at length, the commissioners setting forth their position. The hearing is still in progress and will hardly come to a vote until late in the afternoon. It is not known whether the ordinance will be changed or not. Commissioner Brown stated this morning that he would oppose a change unless new argument in favor of a change was brought out this afternoon. Mayor Murphy and Commissioner Foushee stated that they did not know how they would vote until they heard the arguments set forth in favor of the change.

The Mass Meeting.

This morning in the opera house at 11 o'clock was held a mass meeting of farmers and citizens of the city. They mingled and discussed the matter freely until the meeting was called to order.

John L. King was made chairman of the meeting and Mr. Montgomery, secretary. Mr. King made a short talk in which he declared the ordinance was unjust and should not exist. As for large cattle it might be all right but for small calves and fat hogs it was impossible to bring them into the city alive. He spoke of his opposition to the ordinance as proposed to the Board of Aldermen and of its change. He urged that there be no feeling shown for all were interested alike. He declared that the city could not exist without the country.

J. C. Kennett then stated to the meeting the origin and status of the matter. At a previous meeting of the County Farmers' Union a committee had been appointed to appear before the City Commissioners and ask for a repeal of the ordinance, but no action had been taken. He stated that the committee was given power to employ an attorney and E. J. Justice had been employed to look into the matter from a legal standpoint. He then called on Mr. Justice to report.

Mr. Justice stated that he had found that litigation would be long drawn out, expensive and with the likelihood that the city would win out. He had advised the committee of another course to pursue, but before this course was adopted he advised them to make further appeal to the city officials, feeling that when they were more fully acquainted with the matter in detail they would accede to the just demands of the people. He brought out the fact that absolute protection is not guaranteed even after the inspection is made. Then the western meats which are inspected are sometimes unfit for use. That being so, declared Mr. Justice, can't we just as well take a chance on our home meats as well as on the western meats and especially so when we have the integrity of the people of Guilford to rely upon. He did not desire to appear in the attitude of criticising the commissioners for the stand taken, but he merely thought they were overzealous in their attempt to conserve the health of the people they serve. He thought that when carefully shown they had gone too far they would be glad to amend the ordinance. He then pointed out that there was no need for the least feeling for the people of Greensboro were as much concerned as are the country people. The initiative and referendum was then told of and the speaker assured the farmers that if the commissioners would not amend the ordinance a petition could be secured and the citizens of the city would be called upon to vote on the measure.

After Mr. Justice had concluded the meeting appointed a committee representing the farmers, the merchants and the citizens of the city to appear before the commissioners this afternoon. The meeting was then declared adjourned.

Connecticut Tobacco Damaged.

Hardford, Conn., Aug. 19.—A heavy wind storm this morning damaged the tobacco crop in the Connecticut Valley to the extent of half a million dollars.

SURVEY FOR THE CENTRAL HIGHWAY ABOUT COMPLETE

New Road Courses for About Fourth of Distance--Mostly Sand Clay Road.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—State Geologist Joseph Hyde Pratt says the surveys for the entire line of the proposed great Central Highway from Beaufort and Morehead the length of the State to Asheville and the Tenessee line will be completed this week and that work is being pushed along very many sections of the road. He estimates that about 25 per cent of the highway will be new road courses for the reason that sections of the road had to be relocated. He has just completed a trip over the greater portion of the road from Carteret county east and in the Black Mountain and the Caldwell county sections. A number of monied men and corporations have obligated themselves to build and donate a number of one mile sections of the road through the west. In a number of counties the convicts are being used for the work and private subscriptions are being used to provide for the maintenance of the road. Much the greater part of this great highway will be sand clay, though there will be considerable stretches of macadam, more especially in the Piedmont section—Durham, Alamance and other counties.

NEGRO KILLED IN A CUTTING FRAY IN FAYETTEVILLE

Special to Telegram.

Fayetteville, Aug. 19.—Jim Townsend, a negro, was stabbed and killed and Clay Johnson, a negro, was also knifed in a three-cornered fight in which Hiram Smith, another negro, was the third party, on Blount street in this city, last night. Smith was arrested, but Johnson whose part in the affair was not at first known, left town this morning on his run as a railway brakeman. Until he can be brought back the coroner's jury will not act on the case. In the absence of Johnson's testimony it is not known who cut Townsend. The fight was occasioned by Townsend's and Johnson's desire to walk with two negro women whom Smith was escorting home from church.

OXYGEN ABSORBED BETTER IN ALTITUDE

Colorado Springs, Col., Aug. 19.—Human lungs at an altitude equal to that of Pikes peak, 14,147 feet, are capable of absorbing 40 to 50 per cent more oxygen than at sea level, and the red corpulscles of the blood are increased from 5,000,000 to 7,500,000 to the cubic millimeter, according to deductions made by Drs. J. S. Haldane, C. Gordon Douglas and Yandell Henderson, of Oxford University, England, and Dr. E. C. Schneider, of Colrado College.

They have been making experiments at the summit of Pikes peak for the last six weeks in the interest of local society of England and Yale and Oxford Universities.

TWO PARDONS GRANTED BY GOVERNOR KITCHIN.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—Governor Kitchin has granted a pardon to John McNair, Scotland county, relieving him from five years of a sentence of twelve years sentence for second degree murder for the reason that it appears that in the trial he was defended by two very inexperienced lawyers appointed at the arraignment by the court, and the lawyer who aided the solicitor in prosecuting says there was strong probability that his defense of accidental shooting was true. There is also a pardon for Henry Bryant, Durham county, serving ten months for receiving stolen chickens. He has lost both legs and the county authorities ask that he be released on good behavior.

Atwood To Buffalo.

Swansville, Pa., Aug. 19.—Harry N. Atwood announced this morning that he expected to fly to Buffalo today.

Eloping Heiress and Her Chauffeur Husband; Bridegroom's Father, Who Is a Newport "Cabby"

Photos copyright by American Press Association.

Fashionable society has not yet got over the shock caused by the elopement of Julia Estelle French, a Newport belle, and niece of Mrs. Elsie French Vanderbilt, with Jack Geraghty, a chauffeur. The bride is nineteen and an heiress, while Geraghty is twenty-three. Relatives of the girl threaten all sorts of dire steps to part the young couple, but both Geraghty and his bride are firm in their declaration that they shall not be separated. The man on the box is Geraghty's father, who is a "cabby" at Newport.

FINAL

Arrangements Made for Trial of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr. on Monday.

Richmond, Va., Aug. 19.—Final arrangements have been made to place Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., on trial Monday for the murder of his wife, Louise Owen Beattie. Sixty witnesses have been summoned and a venire of 100 talismen have been called. It is believed that two days will be spent in securing a jury and it is doubtful if the jury can be selected from the hundred citizens summoned.

WORLD'S VISIBLE SUPPLY.

What Secretary Hester's Statement, Issued Yesterday, States.

New Orleans, Aug. 19.—Secretary Hester's statement of the world's visible supply of cotton issued yesterday shows the total visible to be 1,588,923 bales against 1,625,163 last week, and 1,542,335 last year.

Of this the total of American cotton is 732,923 against 732,163 last week and 784,335 last year, and in all other kinds including Egypt, Brazil, India, etc., 856,000 against 893,000 last week and 758,000 last year.

The total world's visible supply of cotton shows a decrease compared with last week of 36,240 an increase compared with last year of 46,588.

Of the world's visible supply of cotton there is now afloat and held in Great Britain and Continental Europe 846,000 against 754 last year and in Egypt 62,000 against 38,000 last year, and in India 453,000 against 475,000 last year; in the United States 228,000 against 275,000 last year.

Vanderen Announces His Willingness to Officiate at the Astor-Force Wedding.

South Norwalk, Conn., Aug. 19.—Rev. Dewitt D. Vanderen, a Baptist minister, today declared that he would be willing to officiate at the Astor-Force wedding. He expressed the opinion that other clergymen who had denounced the proposed marriage of Col. Astor and Miss Force had acted in a manner to "degrade their calling."

WHALING BARK WRECKED; TWO ARE MISSING

New Bedford, Mass., Aug. 19.—The whaling bark Bertha was wrecked near Cuttyhunk Island today. Captain Lopez and seven men of the crew of thirty-five men are missing. The survivors escaped from the wreck in whaleboats.

CHOLERA KILLS 632 IN 5 DAYS IN ITALY

Chiasso, Switzerland, Aug. 19.—The Italian government's official statement shows that from August 8-12 inclusive there were totals of 1736 cases and 632 deaths from cholera in Italy.

These were chiefly in the provinces of Naples and Palermo, though there were forty cases with thirty deaths in Rome, eleven cases and forty deaths in the province of Rome, and fifteen cases and two deaths in the province of Venice.

FOUR

Killed and Nine Injured in Explosion of Molten Metal at Joliet.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 19.—An explosion of molten metal in the plant of the Illinois Steel Company here today resulted in the death of four moulders and the injury of nine other workmen. The building was wrecked by the explosion and the damage, which will be great, has not been fully estimated. The dead men were buried under tons of metal.

NEGRO RUN OVER BY TRAIN; INJURIES FATAL.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—John Clemmons, colored, died yesterday in St. Agnes Hospital after being found on the railroad tracks near the penitentiary with one leg cut off. It is not known whether the Seaboard or the Southern train passed over him or when the accident happened. He was unconscious from loss of blood and pain when found and never regained consciousness sufficiently to tell how he was hurt. He did not seem to have been drinking.

Togo Ready For Social Affairs.

Republican Constitution Completed.

Lisbon, Aug. 19.—The republican constitution for Portugal was completed this morning by the National Assembly. The signing was haled by a great demonstration of joy by the people throughout the country.

FAIRS CANNOT KEEP CIRCUSES ON THE OUTSIDE THIS YEAR

New Revenue Law Does Not Give Sheriff Power to Refuse License.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—The North Carolina State Fair and probably a number of the other fairs in this state will again this year be invaded by circuses which the fair managements insist make unfair and heavy inroads on the business of the fairs. In 1909 and 1910 there was a section of the state law regulating circus licenses that gave the commissioners of the several counties the power to direct the sheriff to refuse to issue the license to a circus, and in a numbr of places this was done to protect the fairs. However, in the revision of the State Revenue Act by the recent legislature the feature of the law that gave this discretionary power to the commissioners was left out or superceded, probably by an inadvertance. Anyway a ruling has just been issued by the Attorney General that the sheriff in Wake county will have to issue a license to the Barnum & Bailey circus for October 20 of State Fair week in spite of the fact that the county commissioners have passed a resolution directing him not to issue the license.

GOVERNOR KITCHIN WILL MAKE ADDRESS AT REVOLUTION

Governor Kitchin has accepted an invitation of Eno Tribe, No. 61, Improved Order of Red Men to address them and their friends Friday evening, August 25, in the auditorium of the Graded School at Revolution. Governor Kitchin's subject will be "Fraternalism."

Hiss style of address is well-known and, as the tribe has a membership of nearly two hundred, it is safe to say that the hall which has a seating capacity of four hundred will be taxed to its utmost.

TO DEVELOP APPLE NURSERY

J. Van Lindley Nursery and Orchard Interests Buy Tract of Land in Sandhills to Develop For Growing Apple Trees.

Southern Pines, Aug. 19.—A deal of unusual interest closed this week, which will add another factor of development to the Sandhills country. The J. Van Lindley nursery and orchard interests are buying a tract of five or six hundred acres of land near Manchester, over on Little river near the corner of Hoke and Cumberland counties, closeby the lands which Leonard Tuffts is developing there. It is the intention to clean off this land and make of it a big apple nursery.

Two or three years ago, induced largely by the success of the Palmer apple orchard near Southern Pines, which won prizes for its fine apples sent to the agricultural fairs as far west as Washington and Oregon, the Van Lindley orchard here set a lot of apple trees. These trees are growing and thriving, and the Lindley folks are enthusiastic over apples in the Sandhills. So a big apple nursery will be the first step toward nobody can conjecture just what new development.

While this is a great peach section, it is not a good soil for a peach tree nursery, the sand being too thin to make the little nursery tree. But it seems to make little apple trees to perfection. So the nursery at Manchester will be the nursery at Manchester will be an apple nursery and one of the big ones of the country.

Charters Issued.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh,, Aug. 19.—A charter was issued yesterday for the Southeastern Realty Company, of Wilmington, capital $125,000 authorized and $30,000 subscribed by Thomas T. Wright and R. H. Northrop and others. Another charter was for the Rural Telephone Company, Stem, Granville county, capital $50,000 by W. B. Hampton and others.

HALF MILLION IN ENGLAND IDLE AS RESULT OF STRIKE

Starvation Threatens Country Because of Inability of Railroads to Move Food.

London, Aug. 19.—The strike is spreading in every industrial center in Great Britain. London is practically isolated from the remainder of the country. The striking railway men now number 300,000.

The government is making efforts to get both sides to agree to the appointment of a royal commission to settle the dispute. So far all efforts in this direction have failed. The employers are willing to arbitrate by means of the commission, but the strikers have refused to accept this method of settling their differences.

The strike is said to be costing English merchants $2,000,000 daily. Twenty-seven railway companies are affected and starvation threatens the entire country because of the inability of the railroads to move food stuffs.

Statistics of the Strike.

The total number of railway employees who are striking so far is 300,000. The total number of idle workmen is 500,000. The number of soldiers stationed in London is 27,000 and the number of miles of railroads tied up is 12,000 miles.

Never before have the ministers of a British government made such earnest efforts to ward off a great labor war; yet they have been unable to stay a movement that promises to entail inconvenience, possibly misery, to millions of people.

London has the appearance of an armed camp, for on all sides are to be seen soldiers, rifles in hand and leaden bullets in their belts, while from the dome of St. Paul's the engineers are keeping in communication with the general staff by heliographic signals in the daytime and by electric flashes at night.

Undeterred by their failure on Thursday to effect a settlement, the whole of yesterday was spent by Premier Asquith, David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, and Sydney Buxton, president of the board of trade, in fruitless conferences with the leaders on both sides.

According to the best available information what jeopardizes the negotiations is less the obduracy of the strike leaders than the intractability of the strikers themselves as manifested through their provincial and local leaders.

It is stated that Ramsay MacDonald and Arthur Henderson, labor leaders in th eHouse of Commons, and other men high in union circles, spared no effort to induce the men's executives to accept the government's proposals, but without success. The negotiations will be resumed.

Broadly speaking, the strike is most effective in the north of England, where many towns are completely isolated, and in the south of Wales.

On the whole there is much less disorder than had been expected, only sporadic conflicts arising from intimidation of strikers by pickets, attacks on trains and signal boxes, the cutting of wires, etc.

Prices of foods, as far as London is concerned, either in the hotels, restaurants or in the stores, show but little change.

The railway companies announce that all their excursion trains had been withdrawn from service. This will make the usual week-end trips to the country by the populace impossible.

ALAMANCE DEPUTY SHOOTS NEGRO DESPERADO.

Graham, Aug. 19.—Deputy Sheriff Moser, of Graham, found it necessary to wound a negro desperado while attempeting to arrest him during a "rough house" proceeding.

It seems that the negro was drunk and raising a row at a negro entertainment in Graham, and was threatening to shoot everybody in sight. Sheriff Cook was sent for and he and Deputy Moser went up to arrest the fellow. When they got there he was in charge of everything and had his gun in his hand. As the sheriff and deputy came up he leveled his gun at them, slamming the door in their faces. Moser pulled away at him with his gun and shot him through the door. He is not seriously hurt, but very painfully.

GREENSBORO IS "STILL IN THE NOTION."

The Henderson Gold Leaf wants to know if Greensboro people have abandoned their plans for building a railroad from this city to Henderson. The Gold Leaf asks for information in the following paragraph:

"Will the Greensboro papers please hand us some information about the proposed Greensboro to Henderson railway? What is being done about it up that way? Henderson people are beginning to wonder if the proposition has been abandoned, or is Greensboro still in the notion of building it?"

The Telegram is pleased to be able to say to the Gold Leaf and to Henderson people that Greensboro "is still in the notion." In fact, work on the plans for building this road are going forward in the business-like manner which has characterized this movement from its inception. Little talking is being done, but a great amount of work which will count in the end has been done and is even now in progress. Doubtless there will be good news to give out soon in regard to the proposed railroad, news which will be heard with delight all along the line from this city to Henderson. There is no doubt about the people along the line of the proposed road being interested in the proposition, and with their co-operation and assistance, Greensboro believes the road can be built.

TAFT MAKES VOTES FOR THE DEMOCRATS.

President Taft is making votes for the Democratic party faster than they have ever been made before in the history of the country.

The vetoing of two or three real tariff reduction bills, framed in the interest of the masses, will mean a million more votes for Democracy.

The great majority of the people of this country want tariff reduction and they are finally going to get what they want. Tariff reform may be delayed by insincere alleged tariff reformers like President Taft, but it is coming. It will come when the Democrats get control of all branches of the government and the people are going to see that they get control at the first opportunity.

The people want tariff reform, regardless of parties and of what individuals may call themselves politically.

Tens of thousands of Republicans who want the tariff wall lowered will vote the Democratic ticket when they are convinced that it is utterly useless to look to their own party for relief.

President Taft's action in vetoing real tariff reduction bills is convincing proof that the matter of securing any sort of tariff reform through the Republican party or by the aid of standpat Republicans is hopeless. The President's veto is worth thousands of votes to the Democratic party every time he attempts to kill a measure which proposes tariff reduction.

Many people wonder why Senator Simmons voted in favor of allowing Senator Lorimer to retain his seat in the Senate. Perhaps Senator Simmons' affectionate regard for the lumber trust was responsible for his action, as it is well known that Senator Lorimer belongs to the lumber trust.

We learn from the Piedmont that they have mosquitoes as well as flies in Greenville, S. C. There are other objectionable things about Greenville, and it is remarkable that more people do not desert the place and remove to Greensboro, where there are no mosquitoes and where most of the flies have come to an early and timely end.

The Henderson Gold Leaf realizes that there is a difference between town boosting and boasting about a town, and urges that the boasters be converted into boosters. Every citizenshould be proud of his town or city, should be familiar with its resources and business and its strong points in every particular and should always be ready to talk about these things intelligently and convincingly; but boosting often degenerates into empty boasting and this injures instead of helping a town or city. Be a genuine booster; have the facts and figures at your command, and when you boost do so effectively.

NEWSPAPER OPINION.

We notice that the Hon. E. J. Justice is also out making big speeches and from the way the straws are blowing he would also like to occupy the Governor's mansion for the next four years. Mr. Justice is one of the ablest as well as one of the cleanest men in the Democratic party, and if he does get in the race he is going to give Locke Craig a run for his money. —Clinton News-Dispatch.

Needs a Curfew.

Greensboro needs a curfew law. Tuesday night two lads of that city, Frank Hudson and Will Busick, aged hespectively 15 and 18 years, became involved in a quarrel when Busick dangerously and perhaps fatally cut Hudson. The boys had just left the pool room in the Guilford hotel basement. Busick is in the Guilford county jail without bail. Hudson is in St. Leo's hospital with his liver and one lung slashed and it is reported a slight attack of pneumonia followed by fever set in yesterday.

The hour the affray occurred was 10:30.

There could not be a more striking example of the need of a curfew in the Gate City than this affair. At the hour of night the fight occurred boys the age of those in question are safely in bed in Salisbury, or the officers will know the reason why, and it is a first-rate law.

Since the adoption of the curfew in Salisbury a few months ago it has proved a splendid success, much beyond the expectations of every one. The matter is still treated jestingly by many grown-ups when the curfew tolls at 10 o'clock at night, but the youngsters have already reckoned upon the approach of the hour and have wended their way homeward. A quiet falls upon the city soon after the curfew rings that was never experienced in Salisbury before. The law is working like a charm and is doing a vast amount of good for the youths of the town. The city administration deserves great credit for passing the law, and other cities could profit by following Salisbury's example.—Salisbury Post.

Cameron Morrison of Charlotte, writes an article in the Greensboro News urging the re-election of Senator Simmons. He recites a number of things about Simmons' senatorial career, but carefully omits noting that Simmons voted for Lorimer in the face of the clearest and most convincing evidence that Lorimer's election to the Senate was accomplished by bribery.—Spartanburg Journal.

Join the Prettier Home Brigade.

It is a fact that it pays to paint even if no consideration is taken of the beauty and dignity added to farm life by the work. Let the houses of a neighborhood all be painted, and there will surely follow, greener lawns, more flowers and shrubbery, better fences, neater outbuildings—a general renovation and "smartening up," in fact. Set the example in your neighborhood, if your buildings need painting, and see if others do not imitate it.

Great differences will be noticed in the experiences given. Some believe the farmershould do his own painting; some say to hire a painter. Again, some are well pleased with certain cheap paints; others say they are no good. We do not feel competent to decide these questions if indeed they need deciding. It seems to us that if one can do good work painting, and can do this work at odd times, it will certainly pay him to do it himself. It will even pay him to spend some time working on the back yard fence and the back side of the barn learning just how to handle a paint brush. Such knowledge as this never comes in amiss. When one does not feel, however, that he can do the work as it should be done, he should by all means hire a competent painter to do the job. It is far better to pay a little extra and have the work well done than to save money by sacrificing good looks and the satisfaction they bring.

When it comes to the kind of paint to use, the question is still harder to decide. If one can get good results from a cheap paint, all good and well; but it should be remembered that the extra cost of good paint is a very small matter if it gives a coat that will last eight or ten years where the cheap paint lasts only three or four. Most of our cntributors seem to favor the white lead and oil paints; but all white lead paints, so-called, are not good paints. In only a few States is there any law compelling paints to be sold for what they actually are. No Southern State has such a law, although every one should have. The Texas Experiment Station did some work along this line, and found that of 11 samples of so-called white lead, five were adulterated and two contained no white lead at all. Of 14 mixed paints examined, only four were pure lead and zinc paints Six samples contained 10 to 15 per cent of carbonate of lime; three were largely barium sulphate, and one contained 15 per cent carbonate of lime and 15 per cent clay. These figures make it plain that one should use great care in selecting paints. Buy only standard brands guaranteed by reliable houses—that is, either by the manufacturers or by the local dealer. Be sure too, that the guarantee means something.

This means extra trouble,of course, and perhaps extra expense, still it will pay to take the trouble and bear the expense to get good paints and have the work well done. It pays to paint in any case, but the better the job the better it will pay.—Progressive Farmer.

COMMISSIONERS WILL MEET NEXT YEAR IN WILMINGTON

Asheville, Aug. 18.—After a two days' session at the Swannanoa-Berkeley hotel, the State Association of County Commissioners of North Carolina adjourned yesterday afternoon, the work having been finished and all business having been disposed of.

The features of yesterday's sessions were the election of officers for the ensuing year and the choosing of a place to hold the next convention. Following is a list of the officers chosen: President, D. McEachern, Wilmington; vice president, W. M. Long, Charlotte. The district vice presidents, one of whom represents each congressional district, follows: First, Z. W. Evans, Tyner;; second, R. J. Sherrill, Windsor; third, J. H. Bell, Pollocksville; fourth, D. T, Johnson, Raleigh; fifth, W. C. Tucker, Pleasant Garden; sixth, J. N. Carter, Maxton; seventh, W. B. Long, Unionville; eighth, P. B. Beard, Salisbury; ninth, O. E. Ford, Shelby; tenth, E. W. Patton, Asheville. The members of the executive committee chosen in the same manner are as follows: First, W. H. Hooker, Aurora; second, C. W. Spruill, Quitena; third, T. J. Armstrong, Rocky Mount; fourth, T. S. Collie, Costalia; fifth, G. W. Bradshaw, High Point; sixth, J. D. Harrelson, Winnobow; seventh, J. B. Vuncannon, West End; eighth, N. B. Wills, Statesville; ninth, J. F. Leeper, Belmont; tenth, H. A. Tate, Old Fort.

It was decided to hold the next session of the convention at Wrightsville Beach, Wilmington. The fight for the next meeting place waxed warm, invitations having been extended the commissioners to meet next year at Greensboro, Salisbury, Shelby, Statesville, Raleigh, and Wilmington. The invitations were referred to the executive committee which after a great deal of deliberating reported that it could render no decision in view of the fact that its members were equally divided between Wilmington and Greensboro. The convention by a good majority decided in favor of Wilmington.

CHAINS CARS TO THE TRACK.

Farmer Then Mounts Fence With Gun, Defying Railway.

Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 19.—Sitting on the top of a rail fence with a gun across his knees, L. C. Doran, a farmer near Boone, bids defiance to Northwestern Railroad employes and has thus far frustrated the company's efforts to move three of its cars which he has chained to a spur track located on his property.

The spur in which the cars are set runs from the company's main line to a coal mine and crosses the farm owned by Doran. The mine has been abandoned and the company desired to remove the track.

A gang of men prepared to do the work went to the Doran farm yesterday but found Doran sitting on the fence with his gun. He warned them not to touch the cars. A switch engine was brought into action and then it developed that the car wheels had been chained to the track. The engine and crew returned to Boone without the cars.

Doran was made defendant today in the Federal court in a replevin action brought by the railroad company. The company wants its three cars, its 3.16 miles of track, its 1,900 ties, and its 7,600 iron spikes.

Business Building

By DUNDAS HENDERSON

The First Requirements of an Advertisement

When you sit down to write an advertisement for that space in your local newspaper, the first question you should put to yourself, if you are one of those men who want to see their advertisement bring results, is, What must be the first requirement of this advertisement?

I wonder how many men amongst the tens of thousands of retail merchants throughout the United States, who are now doing advertising, could answer this question satisfactorily?

Not many.

The first requirement of an advertisement is to attract attention. To catch and hold the attention of a possible customer necessitates something in the announcement that is different from the ordinary run of type matter in the paper and also different from the usual style of advertisements therein. Further, that "something" must compel the attention sufficiently to hold it till the prospective customer realizes that she or he wants to read the rest of the advertisement for the sake of what is said in it.

There are several ways of attracting attention. One is by means of a striking headline in bold type, another may be planned by the use of white space in and around the ad, and one more means is the use of some freak arrangement of the type matter. Attention may also be got by a combination of all of these ways. But there is still another way of attracting attention that beats them all.

It has been found in small towns and especially in dealing with goods that sell mostly to women, that a good illustration is the best means, not only to attract attention, but to hold it and create interest in the rest of the advertisement. The illustration should have human interest and action should, as far as possible, enter into it by means of a figure of a man or woman performing something or shown as having done something, the result of the "something" having been done, being depicted.

For a long time it was thought that comic pictures were the best means of attracting attention and many of the readers of these lines are still of the same opinion. While this may be so to a very limited extent, it has been found that they do not create that desire to read the rest of the advertisement that is necessary to its success. Also because they are comic they cause laughter, which means that the amusement extends to the contemplation of the goods and even to the advertiser himself. When an advertisement is laughed at, it seldom carries conviction to the minds of possible coustomers. A well drawn picture with a touch of humanity in it is, therefore, the best means of attracting attention to an ordinary retail advertisement .

The illustration should be well drawn. A badly drawn or silly picture reflects on the goods and the store. It is better to do without the illustration altogether than to have a bad one. And the picture should not only be well drawn, but it should blend well with the rest of the advertisement. While it attracts attention, it should also direct the mind to the other portion of the advertisement that creates interest and brings conviction. Pictures of the "reason why" kind in advertising are the latest evolution in retail publicity. They have been used for a long time in successful national advertising. A glance at the Saturday Evening Post or any of the good magazines will show this and it will also prove another thing, that comic pictures or caricatures are not usually employed by those big advertisers to exploit their goods.

Having settled in your mind that good illustrations are the best and surest means of attracting attention to what you have to sell through your newspaper, you will naturally go on the hunt for those pictures. You may find considerable difficulty in getting good illustrations locally and when you do, you will probably find the price to be away above what you can afford to pay. And to use a bad picture will be worse than no advertisement. What are you to do?

Here is the cure. The natural evolution of retail advertising has brought into being one or two high grade concerns backed by ample capital, who are syndicating out this kind of illustrations along with complete advertising service. "Syndicating" means this: those concerns pay large sums to artists of high standing to draw pictures that suit your advertising and employ advertising writers of national reputation to get up matter to go with the pictures. Those complete advertisements are sold in thousands to different towns for use locally and, because of this method of syndicating, can be bought, in a series of 52, one for each week in the year, for as low as one dollar per week, with copper-plate electros of the illustrations. Much of this latest style of advertising has been classed as equal to the best publicity that has made success for many of the big department stores and national advertisers. At the top of these columns will be found reduced fac similes of those advertisements taken from a service of that class. This sort of advertising is called Syndicated Advertising Service.

No merchant need be without the best means of successful advertising when he can buy illustrated service at so low a price as this. It is now making success for thousands of retailers throughout the country and is thevery latest in retail advertising.

Remember always Mr. Retiler, that attention getting is classed as about 60 per cent of all retail advertising and when next you write an advertisement without using the best means to get that attention you are losing about 60 per cent of the entire value of your announcement.

Full particulars of this kind of success building illustrated syndicated advertising service may be obtained from the business manager of The Greensboro Telegram. Why be without the means of building success for yourself, a means that has already accomplished it for thousands of other merchants in the same position as you are?

THE REAL TEST

Of Herpicide Is In Giving It a Thorough Trial.

There is only one test by which to judge of the efficiency of any article and that is by its ability to do that which it is intended to do. Many hair vigors may look nice and smell nice, but the point is—do they eradicate Dandruff and stop falling hair?

No, they do not, but Herpicide does, because it goes to the root of the evil and kills the germ that attacks the papilla from whence the hair gets its life.

Letters from prominent people everywhere are daily proving that Newbro's Herpicide stands the "test of use."

It is a delightful dressing, clear, pure and free from oil or grease.

REGULAR SESSION CONGRESS WILL FACE MUCH BUSINESS

Tariff Legislation, Monetary Reform, Corporation Control and Other Big Question will Engage Attention Next Winter.

Special to Telegram.

(By RODERICK CLIFFORD.)

Washington Aug. 19.—That the next session of Congress will be one of the busiest in many years is already foreseen because of the events of the extra session.

Besides tariff legislation without end, Congress next winter will have to wrestle with a monetary reform system, a new code for the control of corporations, direct election of Senators, and the big appropriation bills. There will be a flood of private bills.

These private measures will come largely from the Democrats, who have in past years been in a minority and therefore in no position to demand recognition of their legislative plans.

Of course the tariff revision will be the paramount issue. The President will veto all the revision measures which will go to him during this session. He will do it on the ground that in the future all legislation should be based upon scientific reports from the Tariff Board.

That means that the wool, the cotton, the sugar, the steel, and the farmers' free list bills will go over. They will have to be dug up in the regular session and considered in the committees and again reported out and passed. If the Tariff Board reports on any of them in the meantime, they may be able to get by the President. If the Board does not report, they will be again vetoed, provided the President does not change his mind in the meantime.

And, in addition to the schedule now before the extra session, there will be some others. The Democrats as well as the insurgent Republicans are committed to the policy of revising downward practically all the schedules placing a tariff on raw materials. This policy embraces a number of important articles not now being considered for revision.

Probably the next question to be taken up, that is, next in importance, is that of devising some method of governmental control over industrial corporations. This is a problem which has come before the country more prominently through the Supreme Court's tobacco and oil decisions than through any other matter.

At the time the two famous decisions were handed down, the country realized that unless something was done corporate wealth would sooner or later control the country. The Supreme Court declared that competition must exist, but the industrialists declare that competition cannot exist. They say that, instead of competition being the life of trade, it is the death of trade.

In other words, it is evident that some code must be enacted that will give the Federal government power to regulate monopolistic corporations. It may even be necessary to give the government supervision over the prices of commodities. This is seriously talked about, and even though it is thoroughly Socialistic, it appears to many Congressmen that this must eventually be resorted to.

The Senate committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce has decided to hold hearings in November to determine what must be done as a preliminary to this new governmental policy. These hearings will of course immediately precede the reconvening of Congress, and it is now planned to make some kind of report by the first of the year.

Already the Monetary Commission has announced that it will submit its final report on currency reforms at the December session of Congress. This will result in half a dozen bills for financial reforms. Nearly that many measures have been proposed.

The Aldrich monetary plan is now looked upon as the issue. It became known as the Aldrich plan through the fact that the then Senator from Rhode Island fathered it as chairman of the Monetary Commission. He has proposed in a general way, for reserve banking associations in all the large financial and business centers of the country. These associations are expected to serve their communities during periods of financial stress just as the new clearing House Association did in the last panic.

Therewill be still other monetary plans proposed. The Democrats will want a voice in the new measure, and being in control of one house, they will be able to force a compromise, at any rate.

While there is much duscussion of reform currency systems at this time, the general impression is that there will be no currency laws passed until after the next presidential campaign. Neither party is keen to proceed with is currency plans while the heat of campaign is on.

Greater interest than usual will be taken in the big appropriation bills of the next Congress. When they assumed control of the House organization, the Democrats announced that a policy of economy would be pursued and pursued vigorously. They began economizing by cutting down the expenses of the House itself. Then they went after the capitol expenses.

In each case they slashed with a will and made a good showing.

In December, however, it will be necessary for Congress to provide nearly a billion dollars with which to run the government for the next fiscal year. The Democratic sincerity in economy will be demonstrated then. If they reduce the cost of government anywhere from $200,000,000 to $400,000,000, they will be able to go before the country with a decidedly favorable record. This is their present ambition.

Both Republicans and Democras will want to adjourn Congress early next summer. They will be eager to open their individual campaigns, as well as to get into the presidential fight. They will therefore shove the supply bills through early, and leave as much of the general legislation as possible for the next Congress to pass upon. In spite of this disposition, there will be plenty of work to do.

The Cynical Bachelor rises to remark that a man who has never been married has no excuse for being a pessimist.

No One in Greensboro Who Has a Bad Back Can Ignore This Double Proof.

Does your back ever ache?
Have you suspected your kidneys?
Backache is kidney ache.
With it comes dizzy spells,
Sleepless nights, tired, dull days,
Distressing urinary disorders.
Cure the kidneys to cure it all.
Doan's Kidney Pills bring quick relief.
Bring thorough, lasting cures.
So thousands of people say.
That's what Greensboro sufferers want.
Profit then by another's testimony,
Twice-told and well confirmed.

Mrs. Ella Spivey, Main St., Randleman, N. C., says: "I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills just as highly now as I did two years ago, when I took them for kidney complaint. The cure they made at that time was a permanent one. The secretions from my kidneys were very unnatural and I had headaches and other symptoms of kidney complaint. A supply of Doan's Kidney Pills was procured and their good work was very pleasing. I hope that my statement will induce other kidney sufferers to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

Admiral Count Togo Heihachiro Well Entertained by Uncle Sam

ADMIRAL COUNT TOGO HEIHACHIRO, who signs his name backward according to American ideas, found a warm welcome when he landed in New York. The doughty little sea fighter arrived in New York Aug. 5 to spend two weeks as the guest of Uncle Sam, congress having appropriated $10,000 to defray the expense. The plans for his stay included visits to Washington, the Naval academy at Annapolis, the Military academy at West Point, several days in and around New York and then a stop at Niagara Falls preparatory to the long trip across the continent to sail for Japan. The admiral was prepared to enjoy every minute of his stay, and there was little that escaped him from the midnight hour when he boarded the United States boat Seneca down the bay to make the trip to New York in advance of the liner on which he had crossed the Atlantic. The above picture of the admiral was made on the Seneca before he had set foot on American soil. The gentleman on his right is Chandler Hale, third assistant secretary of state, who was assigned to represent President Taft in the entertainment of the distinguished visitor.

GAYNOR'S VOICE DESTROYED.

Bullet in Throat Means He Can Never Go On Stump Again.

New York, Aug. 19.—Dashing the hope of friends of Mayor Gaynor that his health might permit him to resume the course which they had mapped out for him in politics, an eminent surgeon declared today that the mayor's voice is irreparably damaged and that in his opinion the mayor's days as a campaign orator passed with the attempt on his life. This noted doctor, who was associated from the first with the council of specialists attending the mayor, does not believe Gaynor will ever be able to make a campaign speech.

It is variously reported that the bullet had worked itself out of its lodgment in the back of the mouth, and that the mayor was convinced the lead had been dissolved by natural chemical processes. The specialist declared that the bullet would never dissolve. Instead, he thinks, it has become ensapsulated, nature throwing out cells around the bullet, which become converted into fibrous tissues which will keep it embedded in its place for years.

While the bullet is not likely ever again to give any trouble, the specialist declared the injury to the nerve which supplies the vocal chord cannot be repaired.

English Girl's Tragic Fate.

The startling case of a North London (Eng.) girl who has contracted leprosy contains elements of tragic interest. The dreadful disease was contracted by the victim wearing, as part of a fancy dress costume, a wig of eastern origin. Some time ago she went to a fancy dress ball. The costume, that of a Chinese lady—was pronounced perfect in every detail. Unfortunately the wig she wore was only too real. It came from the east. About a week after a strange mark appeared on her forehead and she consulted a specialist, who found that she was suffering from leprosy. She has now been removed to a leper colony. Diligent inquiries were made to discover the antecedents of the wig, and it now has been found that it had at one time been worn by a leper.

Heat as a Family Doctor.

A dry, steady warmth applied in the right place is often the greatest help in relieving pain and treating diseases. Not until the electric blanket was successfully operated did the disadvantages of the hot water bottle, such as its weight, uneven heat and so on become prominent. The electric blanket has passed from the experimental stage to that of a practical necessity. Not only this, but it is made in many different shapes so as to be most convenient for special uses, as for a chest and back pad, cap, collar, sweating jacket, etc. In its soft elderdown cover the warming pad or blanket is the ideal comforter and the foe of pain. Control is arranged so as to give a low, medium or high temperature by the turn of a switch.

PICKETS TO GUARD MORMONS.

Latter-Day Saints Begin Reunion in Tented Camp in Ohio.

Cleveland, Aug. 19.—Specially appointed police pickets are to guard the tented camp of the big reunion gathering of Latter Day Saints, believers in the Book of Mormon, who are assembling at Kirtland, Ohio, where stands Prophet Joseph Smith's first great Mormon temple, built in 1831-'33.

Secrecy will be maintained to an extent during the reunion of Mormon believers from Ohio, Pennsylvania and West Virginia for there is much concerning the services in the old temple that the leaders seem disinclined to reveal.

The sessions of the faithful began today and will continue a week after which the reunion will follow.

COURTS JAIL TO GET FOOD.

Derelict Says He Was Once President of Brewing Company.

Chicago, Aug. 19.—Penniless and discouraged, William McDermott, 61 years old, who says he was once president of the Fred E. Poth Brewing company, of Pittsburg, and that he has a brother, James McDermott, a prominent physician of La Porte, Ind., threw a brick through a store window that he might be arrested and sent to jail.

He pleaded guilty when arraigned in court, but the hearing was continued until tomorrow.

McDermott came to Chicago from Benton, Neb., several months ago and has since made an unsuccessful search for work.

"I broke the window so I would be sent to jail where I would get food. I am down and out and tired of the fight."

LOVERS' SHOTS HIT TRIO.

Gunning Starts in Rivals' Duel, and Girl is Wounded.

Scranton, Pa., Aug. 19.—Three persons were shot at noon today by stray bullets fired by four men in a street fight on Cooney street, Dunmore.

The battle was caused by friction between two of the men in a duel over the attentions of each other to Angeline Mecca, and Angeline was running to see what was wrong, and was shot in the left leg.

The others injured are James Walker, a hotel man of 524 Cooney street, and Charles Mecca, aged 11, brother of the girl. Walker was seriously wounded.

The men who did the firing are Peter and Joseph Madone, brothers, on one side and Peter Brash and Paphael Valone on the other. All are young, and none of the quartet was injured.

CHINA ASKS $33,000,000 AND MENACES MEXICO.

Threatens War If Indemnity For Revolution Damages Is Not Paid.

El Paso, Aug. 19.—China has officially demanded $33,000,000 from Mexico for the damage done to the property and persons of her subjects during the late revolution, and the settlement must come real soon—and there is a shrug of the shoulders of Shung Ai Sune, charge d'affaires in Mexico for China—and then talk of "maybe no war."

Diplomat Shung is here, returning to China from Mexico Cit. "China must be paid," he said.

"What if China is not paid?"

"If China not paid, then make some more trouble. Fight? Yes, fight. China sent one battleship to Mexico to protect people, but not to fight, but if claims not paid—well, look out for China."

BLOUSE OF LIBERTY SATIN

This pretty blouse is of liberty satin covered with a large, slightly draped fichu of mousseline de soie, which is trimmed with embroidery. Through this can be seen the pretty girdle of black satin, with a knot of the same on the outside of the fichu, ornamented with little satin balls.

The sleeves, which are of satin like the body of the waist, are trimmed with embroidery. The plastron is of mousseline de soie.

Aviator Atwood Making A Flight of 1,460 Miles.

Harry N. Atwood of Boston, the young aviator who recently made an air journey from Boston to New York and also from New York to Washington, has undertaken to fly from St. Louis to Boston, a total distance of 1,460 miles. This would be the longest flight ever made by any aviator, and he expects it to occupy about ten days. On the first day he flew from St. Louis to Chicago, 287 miles, establishing a new American record for distance in a single day. The international cross country record is held by Andre Beaumont, who in the Paris-Rome contest covered 401 miles in one day.

DETAILS OF THE PROCEEDINGS IN HABEAS CORPUS CASE

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—In the sensational case of Mrs. Percy B. Fleming against her husband for the possession of their two children yesterday special interest centered in the unshaken testimony of Mrs. Fleming in her own behalf and that of M. W. Tyree, whom Mr. Fleming has seen fit to bring into the case as an intimate of his wife. Mr. Tyree is a distinguished photographer, being ex-president and secretary of the National Photographer's Association.

Mrs. Fleming reviewed her trials with her husband, due to his excessive drinking and jealousy. At intervals she was all but overcome. She had striven in every way to avoid exciting her husband's jealous disposition in her association with his friends. He had introduced her to Tyree a month after their marriage as his best friend. This was in Tyree's studio. Then they met at social gatherings and he and Bartell Wise were frequently invited to their home by Mr. Fleming. She recounted instances heretofore in evidence when her husband was drinking and Tyree and Wise tried to aid Fleming and her. Also of the times when Tyree was at their house intoxicated. She reviewed her relations with John Winder, Jr., denying undue intimacy and telling of having asked Winder to not join her alone anywhere on account of her husband's jealousies. She testified that the servants introduced in this trial were abjectly under the domination of her husband. Dawkins, who was swearing to having driven her to Tyree's studio at night and to join Winder in the suburbs, had told her he was afraid of Fleming. She wept most when she told of the abduction of the children and efforts to prevent their being sent by her husband to Louisburg. She testified that her husband's brother, Dr. A. H. Fleming made advances. Told her she was good looking, said he thought he would some day meet his end with a bullet plugged through him and it was very likely she would meet the same fate and he tried to embrace her. She testified of her love for her children. Her husband displayed jealousy when he thought something must have passed between her and Dr. Fleming.

M. W. Tyree, who set out that he has lived in Raleigh six years and has a wife and three children, the eldest fourteen, reviewed his association with Fleming. Attended Fleming's stag supper before he went to Washington to get married and the gradual development of intimacy and very close friendship between him and Mr. and Mrs. Fleming. Explained that he had been addicted to occasional drinking since he was twenty years old. Reviewed details of times when he and Fleming and Wise had drank together and struggles he had with Fleming. Insisted that his associations were never beyond those of a close friend. Fleming when drinking would raise issues as to relations of his friends with his wife. In the cases of himself and others Fleming would when sobered apologize. Finally he determined to not visit the Fleming home again because of the conditions. Fleming after that invited him and came to his house, discovered a house across the street from his rented it and lived there for a year, but he did not visit them. He talked with both about their relations. He was talking with Mrs. Fleming about the conduct of her husband on Fayetteville street the night that Fleming seeks to prove that Mrs. Fleming went up to his studio and the proof is that she passed into Williams' Book store for stationary and then took car for home. His testimony and cross-examination continued last night with a view to closing the case today.

Golden Jubilee of Women's Missionary Societies.

The South is to have its share in the Women's National Foreign Missionary Jubilee, which has swept the continent from west to east. Greensboro has been chosen as the place where North Carolina women will unite in this unique and joyous celebration. On October 13th and 14th the Gate City will be thrown open to the Golden Jubilee.

More than thirty cities have made of this a memorable occasion. Portland, Kansas City, St. Louis, Chicago, Minneapolis, Cleveland, Louisville, Nashville, Washington, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Richmond all unite, with numbers of other cities in enthusiastic reports of this celebration in various centers. Seventy-eight towns sent representatives to Cleveland. Ten to twelve thousand persons took part in the exercises and over one thousand attended the missionary luncheon. At the New York Jubilee four thousand women attended the first session; six thousand were present at the Missionary Luncheon in four of the largest hotels, while at the closing session thirty-three church choirs blended their voices in one grand chorus.

All denominations unite in acknowledging the obligation laid upon them by the cause of Foreign Missions and through denominational rallies are brought into close touch with their own work, while in the general sessions all have an opportunity to learn of the work done by sister churches.

The presidents of the various societies in Greensboro met on Monday, August 14th and organized an executive committee with the following officers:

Mrs. Dorian Blair, Chairman.

Mrs. Charles Van Noppen, Vice Chairman.

Mrs. R. T. Wills, Secretary.

Mrs. L. H. Martin, Treasurer.

Each society will appoint four women to meet on August 21st for the purpose of organizing sub-committees, who will manage the details of the celebration. More than one hundred women will be needed for committee work.

Details of the arrangements will appear in the press from time to timb. Some of the strongest speakers in the country will be sent here by the National Committee. Greensboro will rise to this occasion and the Jubilee will arouse a tide of missionary enthusiasm which will give a great impetus to the State-wide and world-wide work.

Mrs. Stockard Entertains at Bridge.

At her home on North Elm street Mrs. Wistar Stockard delightfully entertained this morning between the hours of 10:30 and 12:30 at bridge at her home on North Elm street, complimentary to her house guest, Miss Marietta Stockard, of Washington city, and Mrs. Arthur Goodwin, of Florida. Five tables were set for the game, and many exciting and interesting contests were enjoyed by the assembled guests.

In the parlor of the Stockard home, punch was served throughout the pleasant occasion by Mrs. Witzer, of Pennsylvania, Mrs. Sidney Peters and Miss Mabel Ridge. The prize for the highest score in the play was presented after the game to Mrs. Parran Jarboe. The trophy was a handsome cut glass bon bon dish, and these pretty gifts were also awarded as visitor prizes by the hostess to the honorees. A delicious course of refreshments was also served by the hostess.

Those who were present to participate in and enjoy Mrs. Stockard's charming hospitality were, beside the hostess and guests of honor: Mesdames Wade Stockard, Bernie Gilmer, A. B. High, Fred Sparger, Sidney Peters, Waldo Porter, Parran Jarboe, Mrs. Payton and Miss Payton, of Washington city; Leslie Abbott, Arnold Fisher, Witzer, of Pennsylvania, Erwin, of Charlotte and Lynn, of New York city, and Misses Bettie Aien Land, Boykin, of Suffolk, Va., the guest of Miss Land, Marie Reynolds, Freda and Sadie Stern, Margarite Halladay, Clara Oettinger and Mabel Ridge.

MAN JAILED FOR DEBT HAS BEEN RELEASED.

Winston, Aug. 19.—H. K. White, the actor who has been in the county jail here for a week on the charge of embezzlement preferred against him by parties in his former home in Jackson, Miss., was yesterday released and is now a free man to go where he pleases. The order for his release was given by Judge Daniels at Lexington yesterday morning, upon a writ of habeas corpus gotten out by Judge E. B. Jones of this city, who appeared for White.

Judge Jones, accompanied by White and his pretty little actress wife went to Lexington, where the case was heard. Judge Jones returned to the city yesterday afternoon, but Mr. and Mrs. White remained in Lexington or took their departure to other parts. They had not returned to the Twin-City last night, though it is understood that they are expected to return, as some of their belongings were left at the Phoenix hotel, where they stopped while in the city.

SHE GAVE UP ALL HOPE

Physicians Failed To Help Mrs. Green, But She Finally Found Relief in Cardui.

Meetze, Va.—Mrs. J. C. Green of this place, says: "I suffered with womanly troubles so that I could hardly sit up. Two of the best doctors in our town treated me, and I tried different medicines, until I gave up all hope of ever getting well.

One day, I decided to try some Cardui. It did so much for me that I ordered some more, and it cured me! Today, I feel as well as I ever did in my life.

The pains and the trouble are all gone. I feel like another person in every way. I wish every sufferer could know what Cardui will do for sick women."

A few doses of Cardui at the right time, will save many a big doctor bill, by preventing serious sickness.

It tones up the nervous system, and helps make pale cheeks fresh and rosy.

Thousands of weak women have been restored to health and happiness by using Cardui. Suppose you try it.

It may be just the medicine you need.

GREAT NEWSPAPER FOUNDED ON CONFIDENCE OF PEOPLE

Publications With Ideals and Convictions Rewarded With Largest Circulations—Separating News From Advertising a Difficult Problem.

(By LOUIS WILEY.)

The daily newspaper has so taken hold of the public that its reading is as much a part of the day's program as the ordinary dinner, and the care taken in its preparation is as great as, if not greater, than that brought to bear upon the food of a monarch by his expert chef de cuisine. The king, however, has but one palate, which may or may not be capricious and fastidious, while the daily newspaper must cater to the hydra-headed public, with as many tastes, humors, predilections, and caprices as a thousand times all the emperors, kings and princes that ever lived. It fires the imagination of the generous reader to dwell upon the great army of editors, reviewers, editorial writers, correspondents, reporters, compositors, and pressmen united with the joyous ambition of providing him the history of each day with eloquence, truth and rapidity. The remotest parts of the earth are ransacked for intelligence, and for his delight and information explorers imperil their lives. Far into the night the busy brains evolve ingenious theories, marking the course of scientific, moral and philosophical truths, developing great humanitarian principles, and asserting the rights of man. These are some of the functions of the daily newspaper, and ably and honestly are they carried out day in and day out throughout the year, the chronicle forming one of the most remarkable and successful of human endeavors.

Dr. Harlan G. Mendenhall, a well-known writer on homiletics, recently said:

"The journalist is compelled to write out his subject quickly, sometimes when in ill health, or with others in the same room, or amid the exciting events which he is describing. The morning or evening paper in its editorials discusses events which have happened within 24 hours, and does it with the diction and grace of the scholar.

Journalist Teaches Minister.

"The minister learns from the journalist the art of condensation. It is not remarkable how much an editor or a reporter can put into a few words, and how many words many clergymen use to express the same thing? 'Boil it down' is good advice for the preacher as well as the journalist.

"The journalist learns how to approach men, and discovers what the heart fears and what it is trying to conceal. He rubs up aginst all classes, and is at home wherever you put him, in the costly drawing room of the man of wealth or in the squalid tenement of the outcast. He is all things to all men. An infinite amount of tact is necessary to accomplish his purpose—this is admitted—but he knows how to round a square corner without any damage either to himself or the corner. He can approach a man on any subject and win him to a confession or an explanation of the matter for publication. He never knows defeat. He learns that there are more ways than one by which a victory may be had. We never heard of a reporter entering an office in rough and boisterous way and accosting a business man on any subject, as did an enthusiastic evangelist on a visit to a prominent man in the town where he was holding meetings, with the statement, 'Sir, do you know that you are on the road to hell?' Now, that declaration may have been a fact, but the evangelist's quick exit from the office showed what effect his presence had upon the mind of the man he sought to save."

Dr. Mendenhall's reference to the art of condensation recalls a story told of a British bishop who sent the following cablegram to an American friend: "Third John, thirteen fourteen." The recipient of this message was at a loss to know what the message meant and, on looking up the New Testament, found the following passage in the Third Epistle of St. John, verses 13 and 14. "I have many things to write, but will not with ink and pen write unto thee. But I trust I shall shortly see thee and we shall speak face to face. Peace be unto thee Our friends salute thee. Greea the friends by name."

No Interest in Personalities.

Few editorials can be said to be the work of one individual. Every editorial article appearing in newspapers of weight and influence is the result of conference and collaboration. It is not the man that counts, but the newspaper, and the public cares everything for the opinion of the newspaper and nothing for the identity of the writer. The legislature has made ample provision for the protection of the public from libel by insisting on the publication of sufficient data for identifying those responsible for the output of newspapers in this State.

A distinguished member of the bar recently said to me that newspapers have no ethical standards, that they follow the line which leads to the most circulation, that there is little sincerity in their editorial columns. To this I replied that there ahe hundreds upon hundreds of newspapers in this country, the editorial conduct of which is actuated solely by the public interest, and that what the editors of these newspapers say editorially is sincere and honest. There may be editors who write from other viewpoints, but their influence is small indeed. I asked this legal critic how many thousands of lawyers are there who will accept retainers from corporations, however corrupt, defend criminals, however guilty, with no loss of prestige, and with the feeling that they have responded to the highest ideals of their profession?

The criticism that newspapers are dominated by advertisers is not supported by facts. Indeed, in many editorial rooms there is an intense prejudice against the advertiser. The mere fact that an advertiser presents a request acts against and interferes with favorable action, however meritorious the request. If the business office succeeds in getting fair and impartial treatment for the merchant in the news that relates to him it is doing very well.

The incorruptibility of the press is no more strikingly shown than in the great city of New York, where the immense power and great patronage of Tammany Hall and the wealth and important interests behind it have not succeeded in causing a single newspaper of standing to support it. Every daily newspaper of consequence in New York City is opposed to Tammany and its methods.

Hard Problems for Editors.

The most difficult thing for a news editor is to separate the news from the advertising. There is so much news in advertising, and, frequently, so much advertising in news, that great skill and judgment are required to make a successful separation. The constant effort on the part of the advertiser is to use the news columns for his advertising purposes. Many are the ingenious efforts of advertisers to secure free publicity. The best rule for an editor is to treat news as news. If a thing has news value it should be printed, whether or not it helps the advertiser, but it should never be printed as news simply because it helps the advertiser. The tendency of the editor is to shrink from the publication of news matter if he thinks an advertiser is interested in it, but the mere fact that an advertiser has some connection with the news should not hinder its publication. The only point the editor should consider is: "Is it of interest to the reader?"

What makes a newspaper great and in the highest sense successful? The foundation is plainly the confidence of its readers, the respect of the community to which it appeals. It comes of many renunciations, of withstanding the allurements of immediate advantage, of principles clearly formulated and unswervingly adhered to, of ideals religiously cherished and never abandoned. When a newspaper conforms to such principles, when it is guided by such ideals, when conviction goes every day into its making, and when brains are added, illuminating and vitalizing all these, the newspaper that is the fruit of this blending is the highest form of journalism. These conditions by their nature mean absolute independence of any outside control or influence. If to such a newspaper come the rewards of great circulation, large volume of advertising, and substantial profit, may not the student of journalism say that this reward has been earned because the journal is a newspaper of principles, of ideals, of convictions, of brains and of intelligence?

The Arithmetic Of Advertising Is Peculiar!

For example: a three-inch ad of real estate will cost three times as much as a one-inch ad, BUT IT WILL PROBABLY BE WORTH FIVE TIMES AS MUCH IN RESULT-BRINGING POWER!

The rule holds good, within reason, as to larger space—and as to all sorts of advertising!

Jeremiah Cast into Prison. Jer. xxxvii.

Golden Text—Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake. Matt. v:11.

(1.) Verses 1-2—When sin is working wreck and ruin, how do you explain that men keep on in their disobedience to God, as Zedekiah did?

(2.) How did Zedekiah become king of Judah?

(3.) What if any relation was Zedekiah to the king of Babylon. (See 2 Kings xxiv:17.)

(4.) What makes people disregard one whom they believe to be a true prophet, as many of these Jews did Jeremiah?

5.) Verses 3-4 — Jerusalem was now besieged with a powerful army, and Zedekiah in fear sent to ask Jeremiah to pray to God for them; was there merit or demerit, in this request from such a man? Why?

(6.) Does God answer the prayers of the wicked for the success of their projects, or the prayers of good people in their behalf?

(7.) How should a man be treated who is constantly pointing out national sins, and forecasting their disastrous consequences? Is he a traitor or a patriot?

(8.) Verses 5-10—Zedekiah in spite of his oath to the king of Babylon had rebelled against him, and made a league with the king of Egypt; what did God say through Jeremiah should be the result?

(9.) What is the demerit of the sin to break an oath or betray a trust?

(10.) What reason is there to believe that there comes a time, in the life of an individual, when his fate is sealed and his doom certain?

(11.) Verse 11—The Chaldean king of Babylon raised the siege of Jerusalem, so that Pharaoh's army of relief returned to Egypt, possibly driven back by the Chaldeans. This gave Jerusalem a short respite. What should the wicked do while God withholds his judgments?

(12.) Verses 12-14—What was the probable object of Jeremiah in leaving Jerusalem, now he had the opportunity?

(13.) Was there any ground at all for accusing Jeremiah of being a traitor? (See chap. 38.)

(14.) Which is generally the worse, "a lie out of whole cloth" or one based upon facts perverted?

(15.) Verses 15-16—Why in view of God's almighty power does He permit his servants to suffer for their very faithfulness?

(16.) Verse 17—Likely by this time the Chaldean army had re-invested the city, and then Zedekiah, the king, gets Jeremiah out of prison to consult him. Is it a usual thing for bad men when in prosperity to reject good people, and when in adversity consult them, or ask their prayers? Give your reasons.

(17.) Jeremiah told the king the blunt truth. Why should we always do that with sinners?

(18.) Verses 18-21 — Does a good man ever get where he may not suffer hunger, cold, or other bodily discomforts, or when he does not desire bodily comforts as do other men? (This is one of the questions that may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Lesson for Sunday, Aug. 27, 1911, Judah Carried Captive to Babylon. Jer. xxxix.

FRENCH KNOTS COME BACK

Are Quite Taking Place of Fashionable Beading—How to Make Them.

French knots are quite taking the place of the fashionable beading. The latest thing is to buy a voile or marquisette blouse pattern marked for beading, and to make a French knot instead at each place for a bead. The effect is soft and extremely pleasing.

Most of us know how to make French knots, but instructions to the others may not come amiss. Briefly, they are as follows:

To make a French knot, draw the needle through the upper side of the fabric. Hold it in the right hand and with the left hand take hold of the silk at a point near the fabric and twist it two or three times around the needle. Then put the point of the needle through the fabric again, very close to the point at which you brought it up; draw the twisted silk closely around it and push the needle through. Hold the twist tight against the goods with your left hand while you draw the length of silk through, so as to keep it from uncoiling. When the silk has been drawn quite through, it holds the knot.

One thing that will remove grease spots so that they will never come back is a pair of scissors.

AN OLD AND NEW SHOWER

Unique Affair That Will Be Not Only Gratifying but Profitable to Bride.

In the case of a bride who will not "go to housekeeping," as the country folk say, or whose relations have already well supplied her with household necessaries, it is a pretty and new idea to get up a shower which embodies the various fortunate emblems embodied in the old rhyme of happy weddings:

Something old and something new,
Something borrowed and something blue.

The possibilities of such a shower are not immediately apparent, perhaps, but after a little cogitation it will be found to apply to articles which suit the purse string of almost any friend and certain to mean gratification to any bride.

For instance, among the things old there are antiques of every kind—silver, furniture, china, and, last but not least, old lace. Prints come within the scope of this rhyme, so do copies of English classics, which are old, however new the edition.

The possibilities of the something new clause are limitless and can be stretched to cover any kind of novelty that is desirable, from a 10-cent appliance to an innovation costing a goodly sum.

The borrowed item is not so difficult as it would at first appear, for there are books of quotations, which are certainly borrowed; any pretty thing in tortoise shell or other shell is borrowed from the original possessor There are plaster casts or marble copies of famous statues and photographs of old masters, and inexpensive but capital copies of old willow ware, with selections from the operas for the musical performer.

For the blue clause no suggestions need be made, as any trifle it is desired to give can be sought in this color.

The showery part of the afternoon is usually followed by a feast, whether a luncheon, suppor or buffet refreshment, and in regaling her guests after a gift feature of this sort it would be a charming idea have the table tricked out in any antique damask, silver, glass etc., which the hostess can avail herself of from the household treasures.

Those in charge of the affair may elect to wear old-time costumes, and the bride may be invited to "a bygone days party" or anything which will keep her unsuspicious of what is in store.

HORNETS DOWN DEACON AND GET AWAY WITH GAME.

Charlotte, Aug. 19.—The Hornets hopped on the Morrisey yesterday afternoon and took the second game of the series by the score of eight to six. The game was featured by the opportune hitting of the Hornets, pelting Morrisey, Hauser and Walters at times when hits counted. Fuller got a connection good for a circuit of the bases.

The official score:

Greenville Loses Another.

Winston, Aug. 19.—The Twins took their sixth straight game of the week yesterday when they defeated Greenville five to two. The exhibition was a perfect one and there was some snappy fielding on each side.

ELECTRICIANS TAKE SECOND FROM THE SPARTANBURGERS.

Anderson, Aug. 19.—The Electricians took yesterday's game from the Musicians, winning by the score of 5 to 3. The game was going good until the fifth when Smith was sent from the park by Umpire Liebrich. Ferrell succeeded him and allowed four runs before he was warmed up.

| Score: | R. | H. | E. |
|---|---|---|---|
| Anderson | 100 040 00x—5 | 7 | 3 |
| Spartanburg | 111 000 000—3 | 6 | 2 |

DIAMOND DUST

Where They Play Monday.

Greensboro at Winston.
Anderson at Charlotte.
Spartanburg at Greenville.

Eldridge vs. Sheesley today.

Rube will win.

This is Winston's lucky week.

Never mind, we'll get three of the games back next week.

Luck to you today Greenville.

Charlotte, you get another whack at those Twins.

Let's see, how long has it been since Winston played away from home?

The Twins will take stage fright when they get on another diamond.

Thirty Years Together.

Thirty years of association—think of it. How the merit of a good thing stands out in that time—or the worthlessness of a bad one. So there's no guess work in this evidence of Thos. Ariss, Concord, Mich., who writes: "I have used Dr. King's New Discovery for 30 years, and its the best cough and cold cure I ever used." Once it finds entrance in a home you can't pry it out. Many families have used it for forty years. It's the most infallible throat and lung medicine on earth. Unequaled for la-grippe, asthma, hay fever, croup, quinsy or sore lungs. Price 50c, $1.00. Trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Fariss Klutz Drug Co.

Lack of imagination is fatal to the poet; also the fisherman.

Attack Like Tigers.

In fighting to keep the blood pure the white corpuscles attack disease germs like tigers. But often germs multiply so fast the little fighters are overcome. Then see pimples, boils, eczema, saltrheum and sores multiply and strength and appetite fail. This condition demands Electric Bitters to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to expel poisons from the blood. "They are the best blood purifier," writes C. T. Budahn, of Tracy, Calif., "I have ever found." They make rich, red blood, strong nerves and build up your health. Try them. 50c at Fariss Klutz Drug Co.

Do not allow your kidney and bladder trouble to develop beyond the reach of medicine. Take Foley Kidney Pills. They give quick results and stop irregularities with surprising promptness. Howard Gardner.

Wigg—Bjones suffers terribly from hay fever.

Wagg—Yes, he can't even meet a grass widow without sneezing.

Hay Fever, Asthma and Summer Colds Must be relieved quickly and Foley's Honey and Tar Compound will do it. E. M. Stewart, 1034 Wolfram St., Chicago, writes: "I have been greatly troubled during the hot summer months with Hay Fever and find that by using Foley's Honey and Tar Compound I get great relief." Many others who suffer similarly will be glad to benefit by Mr. Stewart's experience. Howard Gardner.

The henpecked man never crows about it.

Loss of Time Means Loss of Pay.

Kidney trouble and the ills it breeds means lost time and lost pay to many a working man. M. Balent, 1214 Little Penna St., Streator, Ill., was so bad from kidney and bladder trouble that he could not work, but he says: "I took Foley Kidney Pills for only a short time and got entirely well and was soon able to go back to work, and am feeling well and healthier than before." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results—a good friend to the working man or woman who suffers from kidney ills. Howard Gardner.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

NEWEST IN JACKETS

REALLY A PRETTY IDEA IS THE LATEST MODE.

"Shirring" Sets Off Garment That Is Adapted to Almost Every Figure—Excellent Design for Traveling Costume.

What pretty pranks Dame Fashion is forever playing upon her daughters! One moment she opens her flowered boxes and hauls forth coats in all degrees of length; then while you are thinking that only long, or longish, coats are "correct" the last box is whisked open and there is the sweetest thing of all—a jacket virtually without a tail!

So the good dame has been behaving up to this moment, and the wrap she presents now is called the "shirred jacket." It has a very open neck, turned back with shawl revers, three-quarter, or very short, wide kimono sleeves and a gathered tail, falling under a gathered waist line that one can only dub "dinky." This tail is made of the doubled goods, and as it must be very full it is made separate from the jacket, the line of attachment being hidden under the waist shirring or a silk cord. Sometimes, too, the shoulders of the coquettish garment are shirred, or the kimono sleeves are gathered down the outside along a line of trimming, and although the whole effect of the little coat is bunchy, if well made it is becoming to any but the stoutest figures. Black satin in delicate summer weight is the smart material for this coat, but it is also seen in rich colors, and its province is to set off any gown of a smart nature in the wardrobe. Very dainty accessories go with it, sometimes a handbag made of the same satin and covered with the identical Irish lace or embroidered batiste that forms the collar, and not uncommonly the hat will show the same combination. A neck chain that gives it added smartness is called "the chinquapin," although it is no more than a string of round and oval wooden beads in every color—king's blue in two shades, violet, smoke gray, etc. And, funny to relate, these dashing beads can sometimes be bought for twenty-five cents a string.

Any texture that presents itself as a good dust shedder is adapted to the style shown in the illustration, brilliantine and poplin being especially fine for traveling purposes. But do be careful of the color of your traveling dress and, for that matter, of the color of every other summer gown, for many a shade of brown is tabooed for summer wear and there are some shades of gray and green that are equally unpopular. The restriction is against the deeper, more sombre, shades, and the dull, lifeless tones; so if there is a degree of brilliancy, or a soft pallor in the material it does not matter what color it is, for after all the edict is more against the tone than the color. For example, although brown is a hot color there is a pale, tender tint that is much seen in loose traveling coats, this, in satin lining reversible garments, whose outside is of a rich cream tussore. When the coat is turned, as it may be at any time, the lining is of the tussore, also the deep shawl collar and cuffs, and the coat of the brown satin. There are no smarter garments for traveling than these reversible coats, and whether of satin or not they may cover one-piece frocks in very simple textures.

With a Velvet Blouse.

It is hard with a velvet blouse to get a coat on, as the velvet sticks and refuses to budge. This can be avoided by making an extra pair of sleeves from a bit of silk and slipped them on before donning the coat. The rest is easy.

SEA MONSTERS IN BATTLE.

Thresher and Swordfish Kill Whale Octopi Scared to Death.

New York, Aug. 19.—Captain Frazier of the steamship Bermudian, in today from Hamilton, Bermuda, tells of a terrific encounter between a baby whale and a thresher and swordfish, when his ship was 406 miles south of Sandy Hook, early yesterday morning.

The whale was about 50 feet long, while the thresher weighed about 1,000 pounds and the swordfish about 500. The captain's first intimation of the combat came when the water off the starboard bow began to boil and toss spray. He got his glasses and saw the monsters in the first round of their combat.

While the thresher struck with his tail lacerating the sides of the whale, the swordfish would rush in and pierce the whale's body with his sword again and again. Then the thresher would lash out with his muscular tail again, while the whale, unable to fight, save by butting or striking with his tail, rushed hither and thither in a frantic effort to escape.

There were six rounds of this, Captain Frazier said, in each of which the two allies held the balance of power. Gradually the fight got further and further from the Bermudian, until the glasses discovered the water to be covered with crimson foam. The whale then leaped into the air his full length several times, in a final effort to escape. The swordfish ran at him again, piercing his body. The big mammal rushed away, sprang into the air, and fell back into the water, turning dead on his side.

Louis Mowbray, curator of the Aquarium at Hamilton, who also arrived on the Bermudian, said that nervous prostration, caused by fright, killed several fine specimens of the Bermuda octopi that he was bringing here for the local aquarium.

COURT HOUSE DYNAMITED.

Row Over Its Location May Call Out Oklahoma Troops.

Sulphur, Okla., Aug. 19.—The Murray county court house here was blown up by a ten-pound charge of dynamite early this morning. Four men were seen running away from the building shortly before it was dynamited. Bloodhounds were unable to follow the trail, owing to the drought.

A small stream divides this summer resort into the east and west side. The court house is on the east side, the old section of the town, and the west siders have all along waged a bitter fight for its removal to their section. The east and west halves of the county are divided into factions ver the issue, and bloodshed has been narrowly averted on many occasions. The east siders recently nipped in the bud another attempt to remove the court house, and the defeated west siders hinted that something would happen that would cause a court house to be located on their side of the creek. Both factions are up in arms, and the sheriff has applied to the governor for troops. It is believed bloodshed will follow.

SOLON FAKES 14 "APPLAUSES."

Mann Shows How Unuttered Speech Was Doctored in "Record."

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Fourteen "applauses" and one "loud applause" appearing in an undelivered speech by Representative Littlepage of West Virginia, printed in the Congressional Record by unanimous consent, brought Mr. Littlepage into the limelight again today.

Republican Leader Mann, holding up the Record of yesterday's proceedings, asked unanimous consent that the Record be corrected. Representative Henry of Texas objected and moved that the matter be referred to the Committee on Printing. Mr. Mann demanded a roll call and the Henry motion was carried, 172 to 123. The vote was practically on party lines.

PETER C. HAINS WANTS DIVORCE.

Ex-Captain Who Killed Annis Said to Mention Dead Man.

New York, Aug. 19.—Through the filing of papers in the supreme court, in Brooklyn, this afternoon, it became known that Peter C. Haines, one-time army captain, and now a convict in Sing Sing prison for the murder of William E. Annis, at the Bayside Yacht Club, three years ago, has brought suit for divorce against his wife, Mrs. Claudia Libby Hains.

Welken C. Perry will appear for the convicted man before Justice Scudder tomorrow to argue the case.

When Perry filed the papers today he was accompanied by Gen. Peter C. Hains the prisoner's father; T. Jenkins Hains, a brother, and three negro women at one time employed in the Hains home. Mrs. Hains, it is understood, is living with relatives in Boston.

The murder of Annis occurred on the float of the Bayside Yach Club on August 15, 1908. Peter C. Hains, then a captain in the United States artillery, was accompanied by his brother T. Jenkins Hains, and finding Annis at the club, shot and killed him.

THE HOUSE WILL PASS REVISED COTTON BILL

Find Attached Schedules Similar to Those in House--Adjournment on Tuesday.

Washington, Aug. 19.—The House Committee on Ways and Means has compared the iron and steel and chemicals schedules which were tacked on to the cotton bill by the Senate and has ascertained that the rates are similar to the rates in the bill revising these scheduled, which is now in preparation in the House. The committee decided that in order to hasten adjournment the Senate bill would be accepted.

The House took up a number of minor bills today and will pass upon these bills today and Monday. Monday will be devoted principally to the consideration of the cotton bill and Congress will probably adjourn either Tuesday or Wednesday. This opinion is based on statements made by leaders of both the House and Senate.

The failure of the House to override the President's veto of the wool bill and the free list bill has interfered with the plans for further tariff revision and will cause adjournment of the extra session at an earlier date than has heretofore been anticipated.

President Taft this morning affixed his signature to the campaign publicity bill.

Congress Will Adjourn Next Tuesday.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Senator Penrose, Vice President Sherman, and Representative Underwood practically agreed at a conference this afternoon that a resolution will be introduced in the Senate providing for adjournment of Congress next Tuesday about five o'clock.

NEW BAGGAGE RULING.

Will Be In Effect September 1—Other Changes in Department Commencing, July 1, 1912.

The Southern Railway has posted important notices in its passenger stations in regard to checking baggage. The notices contain recent rulings, which will govern the baggage department of the road in the future, and read as follows: If passengers value their baggage at more than $100, on and after Sept. 1, 1911, before baggage will be checked the value thereof must be declared to the agent and tariff charges paid on such value in excess of $100. Baggage exceeding $250 in value will not be accepted from any one passenger for transportation in the baggage car.

The size of the piece of baggage to be accepted is to be limited, as the following rule will show: Up to and including June 30, 1912, no single piece of baggage exceeding 40 cubic feet in size will be accepted for transportation. Commencing July 1, 1912, for any piece of baggage, except immigrant baggage checked at port of landing the greatest dimension of which exceeds 45 inches, there will be an additional charge for each additional inch equal to the charge for 10 pounds of excess baggage.

Commencing July 1, 1912, no piece of baggage the greatest dimension of which exceeds 70 inches, excepting immigrant baggage checked at port of landing, will be transported in baggage cars.

ARGUMENT IN FLEMING CASE CONCLUDED IN RALEIGH THIS AFTERNOON

Final Testimony Heard Today, Arguments Made and Decision is Pending.

Special to Telegram.

Raleigh, Aug. 19.—It required less than an hour this morning for the testimony to be concluded in the Fleming case, involving the custody of the two children of Mr. and Mrs. Percy B. Fleming. After the conclusion of the testimony counsel for Fleming submitted the case to the Judge without argument, but the attorneys for Mrs. Fleming insisted on being heard. The first argument was made by F. S. Spruill, attorney for Fleming, who insisted that the children should remain in the custody of Dr. A. H. Fleming of Louisburg, since his client admitted his unfitness to take charge of them, and he claimed it had been proven that Mrs. Fleming was unfit to take charge of them.

Other arguments were made by H. E. Norris and W. J. Hinsdale for Mrs. Fleming, insisting that Dr. Fleming was not the proper person to take charge of the children and that the charges against Mrs. Fleming had not been proven. W. C. Douglass closed the argument for Mrs. Fleming.

The last witnesses examined were W. B. Holder and J. H. McGinnis, who were questioned as to having seen Mrs. Fleming and M. W. Tyree at the entrance to Tyree's studio one night, but they could not swear that Mrs. Fleming did not go into a store instead of into the studio. Dr. A. H. Fleming of Louisburg was recalled to deny the testimony of Mrs. Fleming that he attempted to embrace her once when her husband was absent. Following this denial he testified that Tyree took him aside once in the studio and confided to him that he personally knew Mrs. Fleming was not all right, but said he must not be quoted, otherwise he would swear that he never made the statement.

The ruling of the Judge in the case is pending.

Trio of Negroes Captured.

The police this morning made a capture of a trio of negroes, with whose conviction they claim they will put a stop to a few petty robberies that have been occurring in the city, and for which the party is held responsible. The negroes are Andrew Warren, Ernest Morris, alias Paul Crump, and Will Matthews, all of whom are not originally natives of Greensboro but come here at times for the practice of their profession. They will be tried on Monday.

Information received here says that the party was formerly a quartet but the other member was convicted and is now serving a term in jail at Burlington for the larceny of a watch. They have worked the game to perfection, and have in times past been known to make way with a suit of clothes from the Brown-Belk Company. The plan of action is to engage the attention of the clerk with the clothes while another of the party "takes up" with the goods.

PROSPEROUS BANK IN RURAL DISTRICT.

Gates County Boasts of Such an Institution, Says a Resident of That Place.

Asheville, Aug. 19.—Among the delegates to the State Association of County Commissioners of North Carolina, now in in session at the Swannanoa-Berekeley hotel, are T. J. Carter, a prominent farmer, and Lewis a Rountree, a leading merchant of Hobbsville, Gates county.

Mr. Carter and Mr. Rountree live in the famous peanut belt, only a few miles from Suffolk, Va., said to be the largest peanut market in the world. They report the crop as doing well, but the drought retarded the growth to some extent. As the vines had not begun to "pin down," it is believed that the crop has not been injured.

As an evidence of the prosperity of that section of the State, where various kinds of produce can be profitably grown, a bank with a capital stock of $10,000 has been organized in the rural district of Hobbsville, which is the first financial institution ever known to be established in a rural district several miles from any town. Mr. Rountree's father, A. Frank Rountree, is president of the bank, which opened August 15.

ONLY TWO CASES BEFORE JUDGE EURE

Only two cases were disposed of in Municipal Court this morning. Dave Allen and Jack Galloway, both negroes, were convicted of an affray, the former receiving a fine of $10 and the costs and Galloway being sent to the roads for a term of 90 days, with the privilege of paying a fine of $25 and the costs before Monday and receiving his freedom.

Jack and Dave became involved in a difficulty last Sunday morning when both were visiting at the home of a mutual lady friend and Dave was guilty of making sundry unsavory remarks concerning the quality of some steak placed before him by the hostess. Jack resneted the remark and one word leading to another, Dave was soon heaping an untold quantity of scathing abuse upon the head of his opponent, who then made stronger threats with a chair but was persuaded from any violent deed by the woman. Dave flashed a knife but, Jack, peaceably inclined, left the house and repaired to the back yard. The scene of the fray shifted to this spot, for Dave pursued his rereating foe, and, as Jack stated on the witness stand, "cussin' me to everything he could think uv." Jack tired of such undeserved treatment and flourished a revolver before the eyes of the now silent Dave. He was at last prevailed upon to put away the weapon without doing any damage, and when the affair reached the ears of the police the entire party was haled to court. Galloway's guilt was in the fact that he was carrying the gun to church where the party was preparing to go for an all day meeting. He stated in answer to Judge Eure's question as to his reasons for carrying the pistol to church that he "sometimes didn't know just what wuz goin' to happen." His honor, however, disagreed with this policy of imitating an artillery battery and so gave him the heavier sentence.

Tom Johnson, a small negro boy only 14 years of age who has already acquired enviable criminal record, having stolen no less than three horses and bicycles in number too large to specify, was convicted of the larceny of a bicycle from W. H. Dorsett and was sent to the workhouse for 12 months.

Minnie Waddell was found not guilty of assualt with a deadly weapon. The decision was reached on account of the plea of the woman that it was in self-defense that she cut a big, drunk negro, and the evident fact that she is fast dying from tuberculosis, her rasping cough sounding at various times through the court room, and her frail body plainly apeparing weakened by the ravages of the disease upon her.

BOY, 15, A SAILOR FOR 8 OCEAN TRIPS.

Has Parents' Permission to Travel and Wants to See the World.

New York, Aug. 19.—John Dudley Hall, of Pineora, Ga., 15 years old and a seaman with a record of eight transatlantic turns before the mast, ended his travels here today with a trip to the Children's Society, necessitated by his money giving out and his inability to find another job.

The boy's parents, from whom he produces a document giving him their permission to travel, were notified.

Hall told the police that he left home on June 3, and since then had been to Hamburg twice and to Leith and London once each. A statement purporting to be signed by Daniel Svension, assistant superintendent of the port of Savannah, Ga., also contained the intelligence that his parents consented to his plans. Hall says he is traveling to satisfy a desire to see the world.

"You say Garston made a complete confession? What did he get—five years?"

"No; fifty dollars. He confessed to the magazines."—Puck.

"I am going to marry him to reform him."

"Try one experiment before you do that."

"What experiment?"

"Take in a week's washing, and see how you like it."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Perhaps Some "Help Wanted" Advertisers Are Advertising To You!

If they are, in effect, doing so, you should know it—the ads should be recognizable—and you should weigh, consider and decide about them!

And the best of all times to begin to "sit up and take notice" is right away!

Will Implicate Prominent Men.

Coatesville, Pa., Aug. 19.—Several secret service men from Washington, who are here working on the case, have secured confessions from men who were in the mob that burned Zach Walker last Sunday and it is said that their revelations implicate several leading citizens of Coatesville.

The average small boy's appetite would seem to indicate that he is larger than he looks from the outside.
